File Transfer After Windows OS Wake from Sleep mode

When a file transfer was initiated from SC Remote while a Windows device was in sleep mode, the transfer would not execute even after the device came back online upon waking.

A reboot of the device was required to perform the file transfer.

This behavior has now been improved — file transfers will proceed automatically once the device wakes from sleep mode.

<Before the improvement>

1. Set up file transfer from SC Remote while the device is in sleep mode.
2. The device wakes from sleep mode.
  - Files are not transferred from SC Remote.
  - The device restart required to transfer files.

<After the improvement>

1. Set up file transfer from SC Remote while the device is in sleep mode.
2. The device wakes from sleep mode.
  - Files are transferred from SC Remote.
